

SOUTHAMPTON SSAGO DINO RALLY 2016

BEDROCK BUGLE

19th June 2016

Volume 1, Issue 3

EXTINCTION

Southampton Dino Rally

News is just coming in that a meteorite collided with Butchers Coppice, Earth at approximately 12:00pm on Sunday. Reports seem to suggest there are no dinosaur survivors. However some SSAGO members were able to escape on a space ship and are heading to a central location in Outer Space!

A big thank you goes out to the Dino Rally committee for all their hard work for making this weekend truly R'ARRWSOME.

And if anyone is able to explain THAT dinosaur BBQ joke we'd love to hear from you...

See you all at Associates Space Rally on the 18th-20th November! We hear it's going to be out of this world...
